NADH is the bio-available, anti-oxidant form of Vitamin B-3. Known as the biological rocket fuel, NADH is essential to the production of ATP (cellular energy). NADH is also involved in basic metabolism, the breakdown of glucose and fats, and supplies energy to the brain, nerves, muscles, heart and all other organs, in order to function.

NADH is also a potent antibiotic, helps DNA repair, boost immune system, and helps cell regeneration.
